CHAPTER I.

THE DISAPPEARANCE OF AN AMERICAN.
The senior member of the firm of Townsend & Burdick, manufacturers of windmills, pumps and other appliances of that nature, was serenely contemplating in his New York office the increased revenues he would receive from the large sales to be made by Harvey Irons, their bustling, energetic representative in Russia. The last letter written by Mr. Townsend to Mr. Irons was to the effect that the latter's suggestion that a market could be had in Russia was a good one and for him to use his own judgment.

Thereafter there were no letters sent between the senior member and the agent, but cablegrams, mostly conveying large orders, frequently came from Mr. Irons, and other cablegrams, conveying money, were sent by Mr. Townsend. Orders came from St. Petersburg, Moscow and other cities. As time went on the increase of business gave warrant for the roseate hue of Mr. Townsend's dreams.

While Mr. Townsend was contemplating his happy future he was startled at receiving the following message from Paris:

Expelled from Russia. Going back another way.

As Mr. Townsend was somewhat hazy on the subject of Russia and had no information as to how Irons had gone in on his first visit, it can easily be imagined that Mr. Townsend had very little idea of what the other way of going back chosen by Mr. Irons might be.

He cabled to Harvey Irons as follows:

What do you mean? Answer at once.

He waited in vain for an answer. He became greatly perturbed and conferred with his partner.

"I tell you, Burdick," he said, "Irons must be in trouble. I can learn nothing. There is something left unexplained."

"There always was," said Mr. Burdick, "Irons is a man who acts according to what he feels on the spot. We can't sit in New York and tell him what to do in Russia. If he says he is expelled and is going back, he is going back. Leave him alone."

"I can do nothing else," said Mr. Townsend, "as I do not know where he is."

"I do. He is in Russia. Just wait. You will get his orders from Russia yet. Irons against the entire police of the empire. My confidence in him is so unshakable I believe—well, I'll let you a thousand dollars he turns up all right with Russian orders."

"I'll not take the bet. I share your confidence. We'll wait."

And so they waited.

Half Effendi sat crosslegged on a divan watching the passing show.

Half Effendi was himself a part of the show, but this did not concern him. Half was morose.

"Curses upon the Muscovites!" he muttered as he drew long breaths from his embozz and watched an elderly Grushan and his daughter pass by. "The new law is in effect and the bride for the prince not yet obtained. And Mizik, the officer of the ameer, will soon be here to ascertain the truth."

Half Effendi had not traveled all the way from Constantinople simply to witness the fair at Tiflis. Half had made his wealth in the business of supplying wealthy Osmanlis with pretty Circassian or Georgian girls for their wives, and his income had been rudely stopped by the new order of the czar. The hated Muscovite government had interdicted the trade in women which had made Circassia and Georgia famous.

Here was the annual fair at Tiflis under full sway, and all the wealth and beauty of the Caucasus were present.

Half Effendi shook his head, grunted another curse against the Muscovites and then, placing his chibouk in the care of Muley, the keeper of the bazaar, wandered, or, rather, waddled, round the gay streets of the fair. Following in his wake was a tall, handsome young officer, whose uniform, as well as his accent, proclaimed him to be from St. Petersburg.

"Ah," said this officer to himself as he saw the frown on the face of the Turk, "our friend Half seems indignant. He eyes every pretty woman with something like greed. I'll keep my eye on him."

For Captain Sergius Orskoff was in command of the department of the service that had for its object the obliteration of the slave trade between the Caucasus and Persia and Turkey.

Men from all parts were at Tiflis, exhibiting in the bazaars rugs and coats of rare wools from Persia, silks from China, costly pipes of every conceivable shape and size carved by hand by the men of Trebizond, shoes from Massachusetts, knives from England—in short, the products of the world were spread out that those who walked could see and perchance purchase.

Half Effendi turned and saw the steady eyes of Captain Orskoff fixed upon him.

"It is a great fair, excellency," he said, with his usual Turkish salutation. "It is one that brings the world together."

"Good enough; but remember there is nothing sold here save what is exhibited for sale."

The Turk opened his eyes wide, as if in astonishment. "Who could have asked more? Is there not enough?" he asked, gazing at a pretty Circassian who passed with a soldier.

"Yes, it seems enough; only remember," said Orskoff, walking off with scant courtesy, "Piss! Dogs! These Muscovites are unbearable!" growled Half.

He left the busy portion of the fair, went to the baths, returned to the bazaar kept by his friend Muley and resumed his pipe. The passing show seemed endless. Officers in brilliant uniforms, merchants, women of every degree, crowded the thoroughfares. The reverie of Half was interrupted.

"How is the day? Does the sun shine full upon thee, O Half Effendi?" asked a soft voice at his side. He beheld a warrior of some peculiar race, dark skinned and gayly uniformed. "Ah, hast thou come, O Mizik? The day is well. The sun never fails to shine upon the faithful," replied Half. "It is so, O wise and mighty Half."

"And how is my friend, the great and heaven born ameer of Bokhara?" asked Half.

"Our lord is well, but he is growing impatient that thy mission has not yet been fulfilled. It was told to me in the sacred precincts of the palace to come to Tiflis, seek out Half Effendi and ascertain if he has found what the ameer wishes."

"The prettiest woman in all Georgia," said Half, with a smile. "For the bride of our young Prince Davonca. And thou hast been promised much wealth, Half Effendi."

"It is true, and I have found the young woman. But the accursed Muscovite ruler has made a new law which prohibits the sale of the women. We must work slowly and with caution."

"Then is the thing that is so near the heart of my lord, that his son shall have the most beautiful bride in the world, an impossibility?"

"I did not say it was an impossibility," said Half testily. "It is dangerous. Speak in a low tone. Better, come to the kahve kept by my brother. There we can talk."

Half led the way to a coffee house, where they resumed their chat.

"While you are in Tiflis look not upon the women," said Half. "The Muscovite emperor has made this new law, and there are soldiers to spy upon us and compel us to obey. It is absurd, for these women are happier when in the luxury their Osmanli husbands give them than with these pigs and dogs, who are 'rade and have no wealth."

"But why has the czar made this law?"

"Because he likes not the fact that our princes have more than one wife."

"And has he, the ruler of the greatest country on earth, not more than one?"

"It has been said."

"By the horn of the sacred bull?"

"But come, if thou art refreshed with my brother's coffee, let us depart. I would show you something."

"Ah, then you are choosing that beautiful one?"

"She is chosen. Hold thy tongue and accompany me."

And Mizik, thinking hard upon this new law, followed his guide from the kahve.

Peabody's Administration Indorsed.

Denver, Col., Sept. 15.—The Republican state convention renominated James H. Peabody for governor. The platform indorses the administration of Governor Peabody and calls on all citizens, irrespective of party, to support him in his efforts to "rebuken the spirit of lawlessness which would turn popular government into irresponsible despotism and keep alive class hatred, lawlessness and treason."

A Canard Pure and Simple.

Mexico City, Sept. 15.—The police of the city were interviewed in regard to a story published in the United States under a Houston (Tex.) date, which dispatch as sent to this city tells of an alleged conspiracy on the part of two Spaniards, natives of Barcelona, to assassinate President Roosevelt of the United States. The officials branded the published story as a canard pure and simple.

Big Loss to Vineyard.

Sacramento, Cal., Sept. 15.—The Natoma vineyard winery, 15 miles northeast of this city on the American river, together with the fermenting plant and distillery were burned to the ground. The Natoma winery was one of the largest in the state and the loss probably will reach $300,000.

All Records Broken.

Washington, Sept. 15.—The application for patents during the last fiscal year broke all previous records. There were 50,321 applications for mechanical patents and 2,554 applications for trademarks. There were 31,979 patents and 2,213 trademarks granted.

Another Polar Expedition.

New York, Sept. 15.—Commander R. E. Peary, the Arctic explorer, announces that a contract has been signed for a new Arctic ship which he is to use in another attempt upon the North Pole, and that he expects to start north again next summer.

Remonstrators Win Out.

Daleville, Ind., Sept. 15.—The anti-saloon element here has knocked out the applications of James Warner and William Stanley to sell intoxicants in that place. The temperance people are determined that Daleville continues a "dry" town.

Brazil, Ind., Sept. 15.—Robert Hall, switchman, employed by the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railway in the local yards, fell under the wheels and was killed. He was twenty-five years old.

ORLOFF IS BLAMED

General Kuropatkin Finds a Scapegoat For His Disaster.

DIDN'T HOLD HEIGHTS

Failure to Maintain Strategic Position Dislocated the Russian Commander's Plans.

Official Report Distinctly Places the Responsibility Upon General Orloff.

Inactivity of the opposing armies of Russia and Japan continues, and no fighting of a general character is reported. Information coming from an authoritative source in St. Petersburg is that the Russians will winter at Harbin, but the fact that there probably will be two months of good weather for military operations before extreme cold weather sets in, leaves room for a revision of this purpose in the light of events that may transpire. The Japanese are reported to be collecting the taxes and otherwise administering the affairs in Manchuria as though that country were conquered territory. The publication of General Kuropatkin's report of the fighting from Aug. 26 until the retreat upon Mukden has created a bitter feeling in St. Petersburg. The report distinctly places upon General Orloff the responsibility for the failure to hold the heights in the vicinity of Sykwan-tun and so check the Japanese advance.

ORLOFF IS BLAMED

Failure to Hold Position Threw Plans Out of Joint.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 15.—General Kuropatkin's official report, which has just been given out, comes as a considerable relief as setting at rest alarmist stories of the loss of guns, the cutting off of divisions and the death or capture of prominent commanders, which have been freely circulating here. The report, which is a very long one, enters at considerable detail into various phases of the battle of Liao Yang and entirely bears out the rumor that General Orloff's failure to hold the vital position at the Yentai mines was responsible for the breaking down of the whole of Kuropatkin's plan of battle and turned a potential victory into defeat. The manner in which retreat was carried out in the face of the terrible condition of the country and the determined pressure of the Japanese armies does much to restore General Kuropatkin's prestige in military circles.

The report dwells upon the terrible difficulties encountered during the retreat at Liao Yang from positions on the southern front, when twenty-four horses and a whole company of infantry harnessed to a single gun were not able to remove the gun from a quagmire. It is shown that the retirement from Liao Yang to the north bank of the Taitse river was carried out in good order and with celerity under cover of night on Aug. 31, when it had become evident that General Kuropatkin was making a determined drive at the Russian communications north of Liao Yang. General Kuropatkin pays tribute to the courage and devotion of every arm of the service under his command and especially to the bravery of the troops to whom was set the task of recapturing the Sykwan-tun hills on the north bank of the Taitse river. The engagement of the night of Sept. 2 was productive of some of the most severe fighting of the whole battle. It was practically a company commanders' fight, commands becoming separated in the darkness and independent units acting on their own initiative with the one object of carrying out the commanders' orders to retake the heights. This account puts the Russian soldier in a very different light from the generally accepted belief that he is a mere military automaton, capable only of acting in a mass under specific instructions.

The necessity of retaking the Sykwan-tun heights formed the first break in General Kuropatkin's plan and lost him a whole day, Sept. 2, and thus delayed launching the blow against Kuropatkin; and when the Russians had just regained a foothold on the coveted position Orloff's failure to hold the Japanese advance against the Yentai mines threatened the envelopment of Kuropatkin on the north, crippled the whole Russian scheme and forced the now historic retreat to Mukden.

The report as given out does not state the casualties, but it is authoritatively stated that they were under 17,000.

The war office is extremely reticent regarding the present situation and future plans at the front. It is stated in general terms that the army is concentrated around Mukden, leaving the inference that it is ready to make another stand. There has been no rain the past two days, and it is probable the country will now dry up and leave two months of good weather for the fall campaign.

Many things may happen during this period, but a high authority declares that preparations are being steadily pushed looking to the wintering of the Russian army at Harbin.

Situation at Port Arthur.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 15.—A very high personage declares that the emperor has received a report from Lieutenant General Stoessel to the effect that the situation at Port Arthur is most critical. For a week there has been no meat and only a small quantity of flour, while the ammunition there is not sufficient for a long resistance. Everything is prepared for the blowing up of the fortifications in the event of a successful Japanese assault.

Lena Strongly Guarded.

San Francisco, Sept. 15.—Guarded by several American warships, the Russian auxiliary cruiser Lena lies in the same position in the bay where she dropped anchor Sunday afternoon. Under the direction of the United States navy a third inspection of the Lena is in progress and the disposition of the vessel will doubtless depend upon the report of the investigation.

PERJURY ALLEGED

Witnesses Say Myron T. Barbour Gave False Testimony.

Rising Sun, Ind., Sept. 15.—The grand jury late yesterday returned an indictment of perjury against Myron T. Barbour, one of the four persons accused of the murder of Miss Elizabeth Gillespie last December.

At the trial last May Barbour testified that at no time did he enter the alley next to Whitlock's grocery store and hold a conference with Private Detective T. W. Franklin. A number of witnesses were before the grand jury and testified that Barbour was in the alley with Franklin on or about Dec. 17, 1903.

In addition to this charge is that Barbour bought gun shells at O. J. Harris & Son's hardware store for a 16-gauge gun on or about the day before last Thanksgiving. Barbour denied this at the former trial. Barbour was arrested and his bond fixed at $1,500 by Judge Downey.

BODY IN TRUNK

The Lake at Cleveland Reveals a Murder Mystery.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 15.—The body of a young woman was found crowded into a trunk which was picked up in the water under a coal dock on the lake front. A half dozen detectives were at once placed on the case, with the result that the body was identified as that of Mrs. Inez Smith of 95 Oregon street, this city. The woman disappeared Sept. 6. That she was murdered and her body placed in the trunk and thrown into the river, the police say is certain. Some time ago the woman applied for a divorce, alleging that her husband, Samuel Smith, had another wife living whom he married in 1892. Before her marriage to Samuel Smith the dead woman's name was Inez Hall, and she lived in Zanesville, Ohio. The Smiths had lived in Cleveland about five years, but recently had not been living together.

Will Meet at Brussels.

St. Louis, Sept. 15.—Among the final pieces of business transacted by the Interparliamentary Union was that of the election of members of the Interparliamentary council. The American representative chosen was Congressman Burton of Cleveland. Brussels was then formally ratified as the meeting place of the conference and the date was left to the executive council. The conference then adjourned sine die.

SOLDIERS REUNION

Army of the Cumberland Will Get Together at Indianapolis.

GEN. BLACKMAR COMING

Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic Will Participate in Reunion.

Arrangements Being Made to Give Distinguished Soldier a Fitting Reception.

Indianapolis, Sept. 15.—General William W. Blackmar, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, will attend the reunion of the Army of the Cumberland in this city next week.

GENERAL W. W. BLACKMAR.

D. R. Lacy, commander of the department of Indiana, with Adjutant General B. H. Day and Captain W. H. Armstrong of the executive committee of the national council of administration, are making arrangements to give a reception to the distinguished visitor. The use of George H. Thomas Post hall has been tendered for Tuesday evening or next week, and it is intended to make the reception an informal affair.

HE DIDN'T ESCAPE

Prisoner Leaped From Rapidly Moving Train but is Retaken.

Bloomfield, Ind., Sept. 15.—John Axe, charged with having forged his father's and George Bogard's names to two notes, has been found guilty, fined $25 and committed under the indeterminate sentence to the state prison. He was recently arrested at West Plains, Mo. While being brought here Axe complained that his handcuffs were too tight; they were loosened and, watching his opportunity, he leaped from the train while it was going at full speed. He escaped with only a few bruises, but was again captured.

Miners Increasing in Number.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 15.—The auditing committee of the United Mine Workers' district No. 11 of the Indiana bituminous field, is going over the books of Secretary Kennedy for the quarterly inspection. It is found that there are now 153 locals in the district, with a total membership of 12,000, an increase of 1,000 since the first of the year.

Bishop Warren Presiding.

New Albany, Ind., Sept. 15.—The 73rd annual session of the Indiana M. E. conference is being held at the Centenary M. E. church. Bishop H. W. Warren of Denver, Col., is presiding. The conference organized with the election of R. A. Kemp of Sellersburg, secretary, and L. D. Moore of Moonville, assistant secretary.

His Hand Slipped.

Indianapolis, Sept. 15.—Samuel Sleeth, aged thirty, was killed instantly by a local freight train on the C. & D. railway at Julietta. He was climbing aboard the train as it was moving slowly out of the town, when his hand slipped, causing him to fall beneath the wheels.

Delivers Mail in Auto.

New Castle, Ind., Sept. 15.—The first mail to be delivered in an automobile on a rural route in Henry county was delivered by Carrier Hugh Mullen. The route of twenty-four miles was covered in two hours. Delivery by horse requires about eight hours.

One Family Exempted.

Carlisle, Ind., Sept. 15.—The race war is quietest, but the whites persist in the determination to compel all colored people to keep away with the exception of one family, which has lived here for several years and has never been embroiled in trouble.

JUDGE PARKER admits that he twice voted for a dishonest dollar but he will not say that he regrets his action.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON is going to make a fourth hopeless effort to lift the American cup. Such a cheerful loser should be in democratic politics.

A REPRESENTATIVE of a large New England advertising agency says he finds manufacturing concerns contented and confident that there will be no change of administration this fall, and they are making larger contracts for advertising than ever before.

No truer words were ever spoken than those of Senator Fairbanks when he said: "President Roosevelt has been confronted with large and serious questions. These he has met and solved with high wisdom and courage. The charges made against him in the Democratic platform find an irrefutable answer in his splendid administration, never surpassed in all the history of the Republican party and never equalled by the party which seeks to discredit it."

IN THE East Democrats say the party is for sound money and point to Parker's telegram to prove it. In the West they say silver is still an issue and point to the silence of the platform as proof. The Republicans east and west are for the gold standard, and can point to a candidate, platform, the record of the party and the achievement of that standard in the face of Democratic opposition. There is neither doubt nor room for argument on the Republican position.

YEAR after year since the inauguration of William McKinley and the accession of his successor, Theodore Roosevelt, and during the continued operation of our present protective tariff the farm products of the country, without regard to the quantity harvested, have netted the farmer more than a billion dollars in excess of the value received during the operation of the Wilson-Gorman tariff law under the administration of Grover Cleveland. This by no means, however, measures the increased value to our farmers, as another billion dollars must be added as the increased value of farm animals. It is not likely that the farmers either West or East, North or South, care to change existing conditions and go back to the low values and to the cheap markets of 1894, 1895 and 1896.

Political Gossip.

Dr. W. T. Carmichael, of Walesboro, has been nominated as the socialist candidate for congress in the Fourth district.

Hon. Chas. W. Miller, attorney-general will speak here October 20. Mr. Miller is the present attorney-general and being renominated by the republicans will be elected to succeed himself. His many friends in Seymour will be pleased to learn that he is to speak here.

Republicans should remember the meeting of the Roosevelt and Fairbanks club tomorrow evening. If you have not already become a member do so tomorrow night.

Judge Perry E. Bear, of Madison, is a candidate for appellate judge to succeed Judge W. J. Henley, who will resign to accept an offer at Chicago. Judge Bear would fill the office very acceptably.

To Close Pastorate.

Dr. E. C. Jacka, who has been serving as pastor of the First Presbyterian church for the last two years has received a call to the church at Colton, California, a good field near San Bernardino. He will close his work here next Sunday and on Monday he and Mrs. Jacka will leave for St. Louis, where he was formerly pastor, to spend a week, before going to California where he will begin work October 1st. While we always regret to see a good man leave Seymour, we are pleased to know that Dr. Jacka has an excellent prospect for work on his new field.

Mrs. G. V. Sawyer returned from Indianapolis this morning. Her daughter, Miss Marietta, and Miss Bessie Oglet left yesterday for Granville, Ohio to attend college this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Wells, of Chicago who have been the guest of Dr. and Mrs. F. Lett, for a few days returned home this morning.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

Bunny Was Too Smart

Bunny Cottontail was a hungry 'bun.' There was no denying that. He did not try to deny it, but set out at once to fill that aching void.

Presently he came upon the trail of a good ripe turnip. His snuffy little nose told him it was turnip, and presently also he came upon that turnip. But what a bitter disappointment to find that it lay inside a trap!

It was a "foxy" trap, and Mr. Bun knew that to get that turnip would mean a great deal of hard studying, not on the problem of the angles made by the cord of the trap, but on how just to get that turnip without being got himself.

He studied and studied, and the more he studied the hungrier he got. "I have it!" cried he at last. "Just watch me. First you pull one peg like this, then the other like this." And, snuffing his head to his word, he pulled out first one and then the other. The cord tightened up, drawing the turnip with it. "And now," said Bun, "you pull out the last, and you have the prize." Grasping the pin with his teeth, he pulled slowly and carefully. The pin came at the first pull, the trap sprung up, and, alas for our best laid plans, the turnip went too! Caught securely in the air too high to be reached. "There's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip," sang a bird in the branches. "That's so," said Bun sadly. "Next time get a stick."—Worcester Post.

Janus-Faced Journalism.

"It is often a bit amusing to see the straddling efforts made by the big 'independent' and 'neutral' newspapers on purely political subjects. With an exalted claim of candor and an air of superior wisdom, they proceed to discuss every phase of the leading issues of all political parties, assuming to be clothed with an authoritative sanctity that must not be questioned. But they do a great deal of straddling simply to maintain their assumption of independence, criticising and endorsing first one plank and then another, in the platform and policies of the leading parties, simply, as it looks to the public, to maintain the claim to neutrality and independence.—Greencastle Banner.

His Economical Way.

"My husband has strange ideas of economy."
"How is that?"
"Why, he seems to think he saves money by drinking so much at the club that he has no appetite for breakfast."—Chicago Post.

A Great Play.

Of all the dramas that have taken public fancy during the last few years probably none has achieved such a pronounced, and at the same time unusual success as has "The Sign of the Cross." Wilson & Barrett's celebrated religious and historical play which will be seen at the opera house on Wednesday evening, Sept. 21. "The Sign of the Cross," deals with a religious subject and teaches a strong lesson, and in a manner that is so intensely interesting, that it charms all who see it because of its many strong scenes and incidents and its varied and beautiful scenic accessories.

BEVERIDGE'S CAMPAIGN

Will Be Opened at Indianapolis September 28.

Indianapolis, Sept. 15.—Senator Beveridge will open his campaign here the night of Sept. 28. This was decided at a conference attended by the senator, Chairman Goodrich and Harry B. Smith, chairman of the Marion county organization. It is expected that the meeting will be one of the greatest of the campaign. Senator Beveridge has always been an immensely popular speaker here, and the party workers intend to establish a high-water mark at the meeting. Additional interest attaches to the meeting because it will be the senator's first speech of the campaign. It is probable that Congressman Overstreet will preside at the meeting if he can come home. Senator Beveridge's itinerary is now being arranged by Chairman Lyons of the speakers' bureau.

Uncle Joe Cannon entered Indiana again today and will be here till Sunday. He speaks at South Bend tonight, Terre Haute tomorrow night, Vincennes Saturday afternoon and Princeton Saturday night. Congressman James E. Watson of Rushville will be with him and will accompany him during the first two weeks of his tour. It was announced at the state committee rooms today that Congressman Hepburn of Iowa, a famous campaigner, will enter the state Sept. 28, speaking at Angola, Goshen, Mishawaka, Brazil and Martinsville in the order named. Owing to the position taken by the national committee that it is not advisable to open the speaking campaign too generally until the latter part of the month, it is not likely that any more of the big guns will come for some time. The Democrats had some big meetings scheduled for today, as Charles A. Towne and General James B. Weaver have both come into the state to remain the balance of the week. It was announced at the Democratic committee rooms today that John E. Lamb of Terre Haute will speak at Roanoke on the 24th. It will be his first appearance on the stump since the campaign of '94.

No prodigal son ever received a warmer welcome than that accorded to T. Taggart this afternoon on his return from New York. He has been here but a few days since his elevation to the national chairmanship, although it was supposed beforehand that he would spend considerable time in Indiana. He is looking a trifle worn, due to the hard work he has undergone at New York, but he is full of hope and courage. Chairman O'Brien said that Taggart will be in Indiana but two days. He will attend the state committee meeting tonight and tomorrow a more important conference, for he has asked the candidates on the state ticket for presidential electors and congress to meet him to go over the situation. So within the next twenty-four hours it may be expected that the Democratic plan of campaign for Indiana will be pretty definitely outlined. It is said that there is to be a whirlwind finish that will startle the Republicans if not carry them off their feet.

Chairman O'Brien said today that while the returns from the sixty-day poll are complete, that enough has been received to reassure him that the Democrats will carry Indiana. He refused to give any figure, saying it is too early. "I am sure from what the poll shows that there will not be much change in the farming districts," he said, "but look out for the cities, for the poll shows there is a big change of sentiment in them." This confirms the theory held by O'Brien and his associates at the outset of the campaign that there would not be much change among the farmers, but that there would be in the cities. The Republicans on the other hand are confident there will be a big change among the farmers favorable to them, so someone's poll of the voters must be incorrect. This has been a busy week for both state committees owing to the large number of visitors attracted by the state fair.

According to George Hellman, secretary of the Lincoln League of Indiana, the convention of the National Association of Republican Clubs Oct. 5 and 6, will be the greatest gathering in the history of the organization. J. Hampton Moore of Philadelphia, president of the league, has been assured that special trains will be run for the convenience of the New York and other Eastern delegations. The Thompson Club of Chicago and other well-known Republican clubs will come in a body. It is the plan to have a great parade both nights. Treasurer Weeks of the national league will come here Monday and open headquarters. He will have charge of the arrangements. Hellman expects to have over 100 Indiana clubs represented at the convention.

Killed in Mine Explosion. Sullivan, Ind., Sept. 15.—One man was killed and two seriously hurt in an explosion in the Union Coal company's mine north of here late last night.

CALL FOR TAGGART

Democratic National Chairman Superseded by Senator Gorman.

A GENERAL SHAKING UP

The Indianapolis Man Must Be Content With a Secondary Position In Chicago.

New Plan Contemplates a Speaking Tour by Candidate Parker.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Judge Alton B. Parker may go on the platform within the next six weeks and respond personally to the questions asked by President Roosevelt in the latter's letter of acceptance, according to National Committeeman J. G. Johnson of Kansas.

Mr. Johnson, who has just arrived in Chicago, also declared that Senator

SENATOR ARTHUR F. GORMAN.

Gorman is to have charge of the campaign, superseding Chairman Taggart and Executive Chairman Sheehan.

"Headquarters will be opened in the West," said Mr. Johnson, "and that is what Chairman Taggart is coming to this city for next week. It is the purpose of the national committee to wage a hard fight in Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, Idaho, Washington and California. Nevada is looked upon as being Democratic. In the middle West Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana will be the battleground. Judge Parker will go to New York this week and consult with the national committee. It is the belief of the members of the national committee that he will go on the platform and reply to some of the queries of President Roosevelt. Former President Cleveland and Mr. Bryan will also speak for Judge Parker."

Called Out the Militia.

Valdosta, Ga., Sept. 15.—Major R. L. Willy of Savannah has received a telegram from Governor Terrell instructing him to report at Camilla and take charge of military forces ordered there and report to Judge W. N. Spence for instructions, and in conjunction with him, prevent mob violence. The prisoner whom the military is sent to protect is a negro named Willford who was arrested on a charge of murder.

Rain Couldn't Deter Them.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Rain which fell in torrents did not prevent a good audience at the Republican party's semi-centennial last night. The desire to see and hear such well-known men as Senators Charles W. Fairbanks and Chauncey M. Depew attracted enough people to fill nearly all the seats on the floor of the convention hall, with a fair sprinkling in the galleries. The two senators were loudly cheered.

Parker Goes to New York.

Esopus, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Judge Parker started for New York last night on John B. McDonald's yacht Sapphire. Judge Parker has engaged apartments for himself and secretary at a hotel where he expects to meet a number of political friends today and Friday. No plans have been made for him to visit Democratic headquarters, nor have arrangements been made for a reception of any character whatever.

The Balloon Disappeared.

Vienna, Sept. 15.—During military ballooning exercises at St. Huelwisenburg, a sudden puff of wind lifted a balloon with a number of soldiers hanging to the ropes. Eight of the soldiers were hurled against a rock and two of them were killed outright and six were fatally injured. The balloon disappeared.

An Unexpected Confession.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 15.—The mystery surrounding the murder of John Fitzgerald of Kalamazoo, Mich., employed for several years as a nurse at the Louisville city hospital, was solved last night by the unexpected confession of Charles Sullivan, Fitzgerald's roommate.

Will Go It Alone.

Denver, Col., Sept. 15.—Lawrence C. Phipps, the Pittsburgh millionaire, was granted a divorce from his wife, Genevieve Chandler Phipps, on the ground of desertion, by the district court here. No defense was made and no evidence was introduced to support the charge.

Aged Woman's Suicide.

Bedford, Ind., Sept. 15.—Intense grief over the death of her husband, which occurred one year ago, impelled Mrs. Rosetta Schaefer, seventy years old, widow of the late Casper Schaefer, to commit suicide, and to make sure of the end she swallowed both chloroform and laudanum.

FARMERS' MONTH AT WORLD'S FAIR

Biggest Department of the Great Exposition Ready for the Inspection of the Army of Men Who Made Its Creation Possible.

Now that crops have been or are being laid by, the farmer prepares for his trip to the World's Fair, a treat that has long been promised him and for which he has patiently waited. No exposition has offered so many inducements for the farmer's presence as this one at St. Louis, nor has any previous exposition given the prominence and space to the subject of agriculture.

August and September are ostensibly the farmer's months at the Exposition, for it is at this season that the agricultural exhibits are the freshest and best. Products of the new crops are pouring into the booths from every state in the Union, and additions are constantly being made to the gorgeous display.

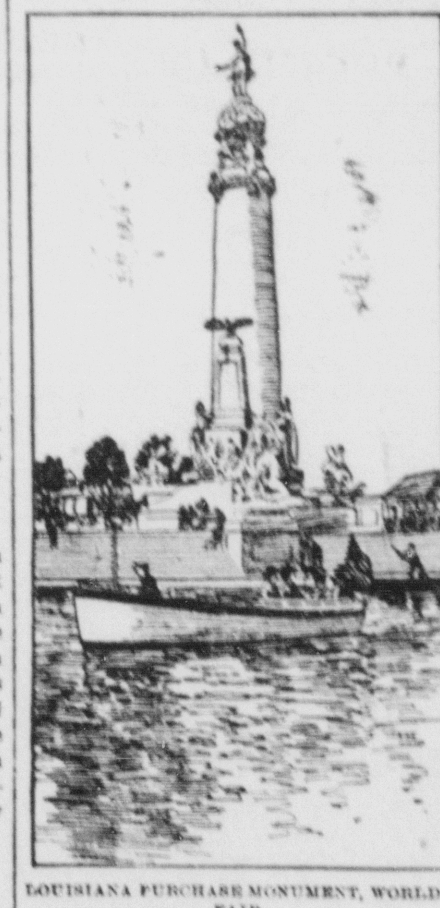

Headquarters for visiting farmers may be found in every state section of the great Agriculture Palace, but for their special convenience there has just been completed a Grange House, situated in the south end of the building. It is equipped with a reception room, ladies' retiring rooms and check rooms, where parcels may be left free of charge. Here will be kept a list of moderate priced rooms to aid visiting farmers and their families in procuring accommodations.

The largest building on the grounds is the Palace of Agriculture, covering twenty acres, while the Palace of Horticulture near by covers about a third as much space. These two immense structures are filled with exhibits of the farm, garden and orchard of the most extensive and elaborate character, every state in the Union and most of the principal countries of the world being represented.

Agriculture is given more prominence than any other department at the Exposition, the paramount importance of this great industry having been fully appreciated from the very beginning of the World's Fair movement.

About seventy acres of ground are covered by the agriculture and horticulture department at the Fair, large outdoor spaces being devoted to this industry. Outside there are growing crops, trees and flowers, an instructive six acre farm maintained by the United States Government Plant Industry, and gardens in all parts of the grounds.

There are more exhibits in the Agriculture building than in any other section of the Exposition. This building is considered by many people the most interesting part of the World's Fair. The exhibits in the palaces of Agriculture and Horticulture constitute a display vast enough and instructive enough to occupy the attention of visitors for many days. Nothing to compare with them was ever attempted before. They are the climax of several decades of educational work which is placing farming on a high plane and is making scientific agriculture a pleasing reality.

The conspicuous role played by agriculture at the World's Fair should bring untold benefits and wealth to the farming community of the world and impress all farmers with the importance and dignity of their calling. Passing through these colossal buildings, studying the attractive exhibits and fascinated with the bewildering encyclopaedia of rural life which is spread out before his eyes, the World's Fair visitor is impressed with the important part the farmer plays in the great world of industry, and every farmer who views these interesting exhibits is given a new pride in his vocation if filled with inspiration and impressed with new ideas in harmony with the progressive strides that farming has been making for the past few years. The visit will give an insight into up to date farming on the most approved plan and will bring new hopes and blessings to the farmer.

How properly to rotate crops, how to get the best results from fertilizing and irrigation, how to protect crops and fruit from the ravages of insects—all these and many more things of vital interest to farmers and fruit growers are taught at the World's Fair.

The Only One.

"Charles," said Miss Passay coyly, speaking of her fiancé, "is quite individual. He is different from other men."

"Of course; he's willing to be engaged to you," replied Miss Sharpe. Exchange.

Miscellaneous Shower.

In response to invitations sent out twenty-eight people assembled at the home of Miss Glenn Kennard at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening to confer upon her friend, Miss Mayme Rothrock, a miscellaneous shower, in advance of her marriage to Mr. Clifford Welthoff of this city.

The rooms of the Kennard home were beautifully decorated with potted plants and fall roses, and gave a delicate charm to the cheerful surroundings. Many beautiful, useful and costly presents were brought and deposited there as testimonials of the respect, esteem and good wishes of the guests for the affianced bride.

A white umbrella, trimmed in white chiffon of delicate texture, containing many little articles pleasing to a woman, was opened over the guest of honor the instant she stepped within the room, by Miss Maude Mains. This act was so skillfully performed that the young lady was thoroughly surprised, but bore a graceful, serene and gentle demeanor most becoming of her.

Each of the guests received a small souvenir, consisting of a bag of rice attached to a heart with a white ribbon. The evening from eight to ten was spent in such amusements as follows occasions of this kind, and all were well entertained. Dainty refreshments were served. The following young ladies were present: Pearl Clark, Maud Naylor, Grace Conner, Mae Love, Cora Love, Ella Acker, Lena Jones, Ora Jones, Emma Robinson, Anna Massman, Mame Anderson, Clara Oesting, Alice Oesting, Blanche Barrick, Ora Russell, Lula Aufderheide, Elsie Aufderheide, Grace Moulder, Grace McGinty, Nora Campbell, Maude Mains, Mary Dahlenburg, Nannie Dahlenburg, Mrs. Winkenhofer.

GET THE HABIT

Of Saving While Young and it will Be Easier When You Are Old.

The man who never saves anything in his youth, will find it hard to do when he is older. There are boys in Seymour who have saved from one hundred to five hundred dollars by the time they were through school, and with this snug sum were able to begin their college course, or invest in some business which gave them a start in a successful career. They formed the saving habit by taking stock in the Cooperative Building and Loan Association and each week laid away 25 cents or more until this money with its accumulations matured a sum which gave them a good start.

How can the association do this? Simply this: the money received each week from the hundreds of members is loaned at once on mortgage security and the interest, less the small expense of handling the business, is distributed proportionally among the shareholders every three months by credits on the stock. The plan makes the stock mature in about six years, when each share with its 25-cent weekly payment amounts to one hundred dollars.

Do you want to buy a home? Do you want to save a little money for a rainy day? Do you want some ready money for some business opening? You can save it through the Cooperative Building and Loan Association more easily than any other way. Try some stock in the new series G, which starts Monday, Oct. 3. Get the full particulars from W. LAWS FOR LABOR

What Recent Legislatures Have Done For Those Who Toil.

IMPORTANT MEASURES PASSED

Tending to Improve Conditions for Indiana Wage Earners—Records of the Two Great Parties in State and Nation Stand Out in Significant Contrast.

The recurrence of labor's annual holiday brings to mind the fact that nearly all the laws on the Indiana statute books directly in the interest of wage-earners are the product of Republican legislation, of Republican forethought, of Republican care for the people. This is established by the record, and there is no better evidence than a record. Let the wage-earners of Indiana examine the record, let them closely scan it, let them carefully study it, let them compare it with the record of deeds done, of laws passed by Democratic leadership, and then let them wisely decide which party has looked best to their interests.

The Republicans obtained control of the legislature in 1895. Look at the record since then:

1895—An act for the comfort and protection of drivers and motormen on street railways, requiring vestibules.

An act to prevent blacklisting of discharged employees.

1897—An act to regulate the employment of women and children in factories and to provide for their health and safety.

An act to secure competency of mine bosses, holding engineers and fire bosses in mines.

An act creating the office of Labor Commissioner.

An act requiring mines to be ventilated and a report of accidents to be made.

An act requiring maps of mines to be filed with inspector, and monthly reports made as to number of employed and wages paid.

1899—An act to provide for better sanitary conditions in mines.

An act exempting mortgaged real estate from taxation.

An act requiring fire-escapes in factories, etc.

An act extending mechanics' lien law.

An act to regulate the employment of convict labor.

An act regulating the proof of contributory negligence.

An act requiring weekly wages.

An act providing for the adjustment of labor troubles by arbitration, etc.

An act for the inspection of factories.

An act prohibiting the use of impure oil in mines.

1901—An act to regulate the construction of electric wires over the tracks of steam railroads.

An act requiring switch-lights.

An act fixing the minimum wage rate at twenty cents an hour on public works.

An act giving laborers and material men a lien in connection with street improvements.

An act to prevent the use of poisons in food or food products.

An act to declare void all contracts made to relieve employers from liability for injuries inflicted upon the employee by the employer.

An act creating the office of Inspector of Mines.

An act regulating the use of explosives.

An act to codify the mining laws of the state.

An act to regulate the sale of convict-made goods.

1903—An act providing for the inspection of steamboats, naphtha launches, and other vessels carrying passengers or freight.

An act requiring signal lights on all water craft.

An act providing for the pensioning of disabled and retired policemen and the dependent families of deceased policemen.

An act limiting the hours of service of trainmen on railroads.

An act regarding temporary floors in buildings in course of construction, and requiring that all shafts and hoisting machinery shall be safe-guarded.

An act requiring railroads to equip all cars with automatic couplings and other safety appliances.

An act establishing a minimum salary for school teachers.

An act requiring safety appliances on all steam boilers, and for an inspection of the same.

Kidney Diseases Worst of All.

How to Cure These Dangerous and Fatal Maladies.

No one can afford to let a kidney disease continue unchecked a moment after he has discovered its presence. This is especially true of Bright's disease, the most dangerous and fatal of them all. The treacherous manner in which it attacks its victims enables it to become firmly established before its presence is discovered.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure never fails, and is guaranteed to cure inflammation of the kidneys, congestions, Bright's disease in its early stages, brick dust deposits, cloudy urine, pain in the back and kidneys, retention and incontinence of urine, bed wetting, diseases of the bladder and urinary tract, sexual weakness in both men and women, restoring to health and imparting to the genitourinary organs renewed vitality and vigor.

"Your Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure is a most excellent remedy as I know from my personal experience with it. I have had serious kidney and bladder trouble with considerable pain. This was a repetition of trouble a year back. I tried one bottle, and the relief was so great, I ordered two bottles of you by express, and am glad to say that I am all right now and recommend this medicine fully to any one suffering with these difficulties."

Truly yours, W. F. Black, Cleveland, O.
Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure is guaranteed to give satisfaction or money will be refunded. It is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by

W. F. PETER DRUG CO.

The Republican party was brought into being by the cause of free labor, and the earlier years of its history were spent in giving to toil a new dignity by the overthrow of slavery. In all the years which have succeeded the civil war, the Republican party has gone on in the fulfillment of its mission as the champion of those conditions in the industrial world under which American labor is more profitably employed, more guarded by favoring legislation, in a greater degree blessed with the comforts and luxuries of life than the labor of any other country in the world. That ideal conditions have not yet been attained goes without saying, but the history of this country during the past forty years has been characterized by a steady advance toward better conditions for the wage-earner.

Since the close of the civil war Republican congresses are to be credited with most of the important enactments in the interests of labor. The abolition of peonage, the prohibition of the coolie trade, the protection of seamen, the abrogation of involuntary servitude of foreigners, the prohibition of alien contract labor, the incorporation of national trades unions, the prohibition of the contract labor system of United States convicts, the arbitration law, the creation of a department of labor, the prohibition of contract labor are measures against which only Democratic votes were cast in the congress of the United States. The homestead laws, under which thousands of free homes have gone to the landless, were Republican legislation.

Nearly all labor protective legislation in the United States was first enacted by legislatures in Republican states, and this example has not spread to Southern states where Democratic leadership holds a sway undisputed. In the United States there are at present thirty-one labor bureaus; twenty-one of these are in Republican and ten in Democratic states. Nineteen out of twenty-seven Republican states have established a factory inspection service, while three out of eighteen Democratic states have taken this forward step, so necessary for the enforcement of protective labor laws. Of the twenty-two states in the Union in which legislation has been had prohibiting labor employed on public contracts from working over eight hours a day, sixteen are Republican. Of the twelve states which have enacted sweat-shop legislation, ten are Republican and two are Democratic. Of the twenty-six states which have enacted laws prohibiting the employment of children under twelve years of age in factories, twenty are Republican and six Democratic. Of the twenty-nine states which have passed laws regulating the employment of women, twenty-two are Republican and seven Democratic. In twenty-five states laws have been passed which require employers to provide seats for females employed in shops or stores; of these states all but eight are Republican fourteen of the seventeen states in which the sale of convict-made goods is regulated by law are Republican.

Political leadership is to be judged by performance rather than by profession. The statistics show that in most states where Democracy is dominant, particularly those states where the supremacy of Democratic leadership is undisputed, labor reform legislation is absent from the statute books; while the typically Republican states of Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan and Minnesota have set an example for the rest of the Union in the matter of laws in the interests of the wage-earner.

Parties, like individuals, are to be judged by performance rather than profession.

PARAGRAPHIC POINTERS

The Delphi Journal makes a point that is worth a good deal of thinking about on the part of the voter when it says that no Republican convention has ever found it necessary to revise its platform to comply with a telegram of instructions.

W. J. Bryan has declared that the nomination of Alton B. Parker was secured by leaving the delegates under a false impression. So far we have not seen the statement contradicted. And who can successfully contradict it?

Before the reorganizing politicians attempt to make a campaign on personalities it will be in order for them to explain why their candidate did not inform the St. Louis convention as to his views on the money standard before he was nominated instead of afterward.

A party so ashamed of its past that it tries to divert attention solely to its candidates, and those candidates comparatively unknown, ought to remember that this is America and the beginning of the twentieth century, and not the beginning of the nineteenth or eighteenth. A hundred or more years ago this plan might have won, but it won't today.

While the theorist goes on prating about the protective tariff "practically excluding competition" the independent concerns continue to spring up and give employment to labor, just as they continue also to give the combinations called trusts the keenest of competition—an independent company stealing away the biggest customer of the steel trust, for instance.

Of course no one supposes that the reorganizers are seeking to destroy the industries of this country. No one supposed that in 1892, but the opposition was warned time and again that the inevitable effect of its theories would be to injure these industries and to destroy many a one of them, but these warnings were given little heed by many voters for the reason that they were attributed simply to a desire to make a point in politics rather than to express the truth. But the warnings proved to be well founded. So today, while it is not to be assumed that the reorganizers desire to depress business, yet the same insight into the affairs of the country shows that a depression in business must inevitably follow, should the reorganizers happen to succeed. It is not a question of intentions so much as a question of results, and the results in the past have not been such as to inspire entire confidence in their policy, so far as they have any policy, or in the men that are presented to speak for them.

M'WADE "FIRED"

Consul General at Canton, China, Fees Officially Axed.

Oyster Bay, Sept. 15.—Consul General Robert McWade, at Canton, China, has been removed from office. The consul general was removed by President Roosevelt. Charges made against McWade recently were investigated by Assistant Secretary Peirce, who went to the Orient to make an investigation of several of the United States consulates in China and Japan. Following the rule in such cases, the department declines to make public any statement. But the charges were of a more or less public knowledge, particularly in the foreign settlement in China and Japan. The more serious of these allegations connected the consul general's name with the improper issuance of certificates to Chinese bound for the Philippines or the United States. There was also talk of excessive fees. Mr. McWade was one of the most widely known newspaper men in Washington. A Philadelphia before his appointment to the consular service.

Invading Gasaway's Territory. New York, Sept. 15.—Senator Fairbanks and Senator Scott of West Virginia will leave Washington Friday on a private car to make a campaigning trip through West Virginia.

Millionaire Brewer Dead. Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 15.—John Wagner, sr., the millionaire brewer, president of the Thieme & Wagner Brewing company, is dead from a paralytic stroke, aged seventy-five years.

Roberts for Governor. Hartford, Conn., Sept. 15.—The Republican state convention placed in nomination for governor, Henry Roberts of Hartford; for lieutenant governor, Rollin S. Woodruff of New Haven.

KIDNEY DISEASES CAUSE ONE-THIRD OF THE TOTAL DEATHS.

When the Kidneys fail to perform their functions properly by not straining out the poisonous waste matter from the blood as it passes through them, the poisons are carried by the circulation to every part of the body, deranging the different organs. This causes heart trouble, stomach trouble, sluggish liver and a host of other ills, all due to deranged Kidneys.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE

corrects irregularities and cures Kidney and Bladder diseases in every form, tones up the whole system, and the diseases that have resulted from disordered Kidneys disappear, because the cause has been removed. Commence taking FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE at the first sign of danger. Do not risk having Bright's Disease or Diabetes.

CURED OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

Mr. Robert O. Burke, Ellettsburg, Saratoga Co., N. Y., writes—I am glad to have an opportunity of telling what magnificent results I have had from using FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE after having tried other advertised medicines and several physicians. Before I began it I had to get up from 12 to 20 times each night to relieve my bladder. I was all bloated up with dropsy and my eyesight was so impaired that I could scarcely see one of my family across the room. In fact, I was so badly used up that I had given up hope of living when I was urged by a friend to try FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE. One 50-cent bottle worked wonders, and before I had taken the third bottle the superfluous flesh had gone, as well as all other symptoms of kidney trouble. My friends were surprised that
